Goethe-Institut Beirut/Tripoli as one of 135 such institutes world-wide is present in Lebanon since 1954.

Our aims are promoting German culture in the broadest sense of the word including environmental subjects as well as philosophy and music. Goethe-Institut seeks co-operation with Lebanese institutions like schools, universities, ministries and associations to install a cultural exchange on a wide range of subjects to keep alive a profound dialogue between the two countries.

Apart from that we are teaching German to adults -at the moment about 800 students per year. Our mediatheque consists of 7000 media - including books, journals, CD's, videos, in German, English, French and Arabic. Everything is available for everybody.

Goethe-Institut organises teacher - training seminars for all teachers of German in Lebanon, informing about new methods and materials to teach the German language.

In 1999 Goethe-Institut had apart from the usual offers special programs to celebrate Beirut as cultural capital of the Arab world and of course we had a wide range of programs on Goethe including the presentation of a new collection of Goethe poems in Arabic and German.

The highlight of this Goethe program is of course the performance of scenes from Goethe's Faust part 1 and 2 presented by Lebanese and American actors. The Goethe-Institut is very thankful to all, who sponsored this event and made it possible to close the celebrations on Goethe with one of the most eminent pieces of world literature.
